

Men and Women

In College

FOR PARENTS WHO ARE CONCERNED WITH THE PERCEPTIONS OF THEIR SON/ DAUGHTER IN COLLEGE BASED ON GENDER

Men and Women Have Similar Experiences at College.

When 5 women and 4 men were asked the question, "What was your motivation for coming to college?", 100% of the respondents said that it was to further their education and to get a good job. When time diaries of students were documented, a male's daily schedule was very similar to a female's daily schedule. From this, we can conclude that men and women share many experiences.

Parents: What can you do to help?

Communicate to your child that no matter what sex, they will have a great experience in college. Also, tell them not to stereotype other students based on gender, because they have very similar experiences.

So What's The Problem?

The problem arose when I asked the question, "What do you think the opposite sex spends most of their time doing.?", men said that women spent most of their time hanging out, going out, studying and sleeping. 80% of the women said that men spend most of their time playing video games. But, the most disturbing was that 100% of the respondents said their college experience would be different if they were of the opposite sex.

Amanda Leamon

aml32367@huskies.bloomu.edu

